Mock Interview Practice Pack

Run realistic practice interviews and improve fast.

Introduction

Practising under realistic conditions is the fastest way to build interview confidence. This pack gives you a structured mock interview you can run alone, with a friend, or with AI.

Instructions

- Set a timer for 30–40 minutes and treat it like the real thing.
- Have a partner (or AI) ask the questions and give feedback.
- Record yourself if you can — reviewing it is hugely valuable.
- Repeat weekly until your answers feel natural.

Mock Interview Script

1. Warm-up: "Tell me about yourself." (elevator pitch)
2. Motivation: "Why testing? Why this role?"
3. Fundamentals: severity vs priority; when do you stop testing?
4. Test design: how would you test a login page?
5. Behavioural (STAR): a defect you are proud of; a conflict with a developer.
6. Technical: a status code question; when to automate; responsible AI use.
7. Your questions: ask two prepared questions.

Practical Exercise

Run the full script once, score yourself, and pick the lowest-scoring area to focus on before your next mock.

Best Practices

- Practise out loud, not just in your head.
- Review recordings honestly.
- Improve one area at a time.

Common Mistakes

- Only practising the questions you already answer well.
- Never timing yourself.
- Skipping the "your questions" part.

INSIDE STLC PRO TIP

You can run a full mock with AI: ask it to act as a QA interviewer, answer out loud, then ask for specific feedback on each answer. It is the cheapest practice partner you will ever have.
